APRIL 1980

The MARQUEE is supported in part by the Kansas Arts Commission, a state agency, and the National Endowment for the Arts, a federal agency.

THE PRESIDENT'S PAGE

We have recently held our sixth convention. For six years we have met, discussed, shared and learned with each other. We have welcomed the opportunity to meet new friends, and re-establish ties with old friends. But the yearly convention has also focused our needs, our problems, and our accomplishments. As the state organization has matured, we have become more aware of the necessity of working together. Problems of finances, of working with boards, of defining our contribution to our society and our times have become common concerns. And the support and encouragement of our colleagues help to give all of us the energy and stimulus for thoughtful and exciting ways to approach these problems.

We have begun to learn how to define what we do and to communicate the value of theatre in our state. In times of financial stress, it is difficult to keep a public awareness of the importance of all art in our daily lives. It is not an easy task for those of us vitally involved with the arts. Yeats once said, "A curse on plays that have to be set up in fifty ways." We have all felt that. But it is true that the arts are not a frill, a peripheral activity in a society, but ultimately one of the tests of a civilization. And it is our responsibility to help others become aware of that value.

Much of this was clarified for me when we established the Kansas Theatre Hall of Fame, and inducted our first five members at the convention. Karl Bruder, Jed Davis, Bob Gard, Peggy Greene, and Irene Vickers Baker are superb role models for all of us. Their dedication, commitment, love and joy of theatre made the convention a very special, inspiring time. The enormous contributions they have made to theatre helped us to re-new our own spirits.

The entire Association, and especially the members of the board, are aware of the contribution of time and talent from Ron Fredrickson in his term of office as President. Much of our growth, and many of our hopes are the result of his work. It is difficult to follow in his footsteps. I will need all your support, and pledge you mine.

MISCELLANEOUS INFORMATION

"Take a Card, Any Card" by Martin Kimeldorf, the grand prize-winning script in the ARC (Association for Retarded Citizens of Kansas) NATIONAL PLAYWRITING COMPETITION, premiered March 25-29, 1980, at Kansas State University. The competition, which requested scripts dealing with a theme of mental retardation or including roles which could be filled by developmentally disabled performers, attracted 52 scripts from all parts of the United States and Canada. Janet Filkel of Pittsburg, Kansas, was an Honorable Mention winner for her children's script, "I Wonder If It Hurts." Dr. Norman Fedder of the KSU Theatre Dept. directed "Take a Card, Any Card," which is the story of a handicapped person and his family's attempts to find acceptance in society. The play is peopled with characters from the lives of the handicapped: doctors, teachers, rehabilitation counselors, relatives, institutional personnel.

Judith Morse Hillman wrote to tell us about Tales for Tots Players, a new troupe in Kansas. This successful creative dramatic troupe, developed in Chicago by a group of parents wanting to give their children more learning experiences, is aimed solely for the "forgotten audience" of pre-schoolers, ages 2 to 6. This exciting and unique troupe relies on experienced actors combining their skills in creative dramatics, art and children's theatre to create a wonderful atmosphere for learning. The purpose of the troupe is to enhance the experience of the children while watching familiar stories come alive before their eyes and experiencing the drama they have only read about. It helps to develop imaginations, stretch attention spans, and excite interest in further reading. The troupe is stationed in Wichita. For further information, write Judith Hillman, 3705 E. Mt. Vernon, Wichita 67218.

The Lawrence Community Theatre has obtained a grant from the Kansas Arts Commission to produce an original script by Paul Stephen Lim called Flesh, Flash and Frank Harris. This "recreation in two acts" recalls the notorious turn-of-the-century literary figure and one-time Lawrence resident whose friends included Oscar Wilde, Charlie Chaplin, GBS, and KU Professor Byron Smith. The production features Ambrose Sarricks, Charles Whitman, and Bart Ewing. The eminent George Bernard Shaw is portrayed by Charles Oldfather, the the production is directed by Mary Doveton, President-Elect of KCTC.

ABOUT KAAE

The Kansas Alliance for Arts Education was developed five years ago to develop pilot programs on Arts-in-Education in Kansas. Funds were funneled into Kansas from the national AAE. Several projects have been carried out in Garden City, Newton, Coffeyville, and Topeka. This summer a project will be conducted at K-State on the arts in higher education. KAAE will be developing new goals and objectives this fall. Presently chaired by Janice Lee of Manhattan, KAAE is an organization those of us concerned about drama in education (particularly K-12) should be affiliated with. It is concerned with ADVOCACY. This past year, KAAE organized and chaired a Task Force to develop the State Department of Education Position Paper on the Arts, which has been accepted by the State Board (up till that time, Kansas was one of two states that had never developed such a document).

In times of high inflation it is hard to keep shelling out money to join organizations, all of which have a good cause. I urge you to consider joining KAAE ($5 for an individual membership) because we all know that our future artists and audiences are the young people in our schools, upon whom we are having minimal impact. KAAE can help us achieve our goals for drama in education! DON'T PUT IT OFF - JOIN TODAY! Send your check to: Charlene Cox, Membership Chairperson, 6112 W. Smith Pl., Topeka, KS 66614

SECTION 504

For those of you wondering how to improve accessibility of your theatre activities to your handicapped citizens, here's an idea from Arena Stage in Washington, DC (from an article in Theatre Communications Group Newsletter): "Sign language-interpreted presentations of The Winter's Tale and Teibele and Her Demon last month kicked off Arena Stage's plans to increase its accessibility to the handicapped. The Washington, DC, based company also plans modifications of its facilities to meet guidelines set up by the National Endowment for the Arts. These include improved wheelchair access in all three performing spaces, more accessible coin telephones, water fountains and parking spaces, and improved signage. Detailed play synopses will be created for the hearing impaired and special play information sheets, describing the action and visual aspects of the productions, will be manufactured for visually-impaired theatre-goers, who can have a companion or a theatre volunteer read them aloud.

Those of us in AKT who were lucky enough to be able to attend the Region 5 (Mid America Theatre Conference) Meeting in Omaha March 28-30th, saw an inspiring demonstration of what can be done to help the hearing impaired enjoy theatrical and musical productions. The Omaha Community Playhouse has a slide presentation showing interpreters, fully costumed and fully integrated into the blocking of their production of A Christmas Carol. What really turned me on was that many of the actors learned to sign their own speeches and songs! If you want to know more about what they did and how they did it, contact: Nancy Timmins, Metropolitan Arts Council, P.O. Box 1077, Downtown Station, Omaha NE 68101.

MEMBERSHIP DIRECTORY

In this issue of MARQUEE is a complete list of current AKT members. Please check to see if your name is listed correctly and that we have your correct address and zip code. PLEASE NOTE: our membership year is September 1 to August 31. Your membership is good until August 31, 1980, at which time we will be asking you to renew. We are trying to separate membership dues from annual conference registrations, so that we can have an on-going cash flow to meet the on-going administrative expenses of AKT. We appreciate your understanding and cooperation.

INFORMATION AND TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE FOR 504

The section 504 regulations put forth by the National Endowment for the Arts are available upon request (also in large print copy) from the Kansas Arts Commission office.

The Kansas Arts Commission office has technical assistance and information available to help you incorporate section 504 plans for your project. In addition, a statewide panel of people with expertise in making 504 accommodations has been established to advise KAC local grant recipients. They serve as consultants to you in your area. If you have questions about the regulations or you encounter difficulties in making accommodations for the handicapped within your project, you should write or call one of these panel members to assist you. The panel members can offer you useful information from a handicapped person's viewpoint, and common sense solutions for making accommodations to your project without accruing unnecessary costs. The panel members can also refer you to local advocate groups of handicapped persons who can assist you in planning 504 accommodations "on the spot."

504 DEFINITIONS AND EXAMPLES FOR DIFFERENT HANDICAPS.

In planning for modifications or accommodations made within your project to comply with Section 504, keep in mind that the word "HANDICAP" is very general and covers several types of handicaps. In order to comply with 504, the Kansas Arts Commission suggests that your project plans include consideration of four types of persons' needs. These four are:

- A. Persons with hearing impairments.
- B. Persons with visual impairments.
- C. Persons with mental impairments.
- D. Persons with physical impairments.

A. DEFINITION: PERSONS WITH A HEARING IMPAIRMENT: This is a person who is deaf or has a serious hearing loss.

EXAMPLES OF ACCOMMODATIONS MADE FOR PERSONS WITH HEARING IMPAIRMENTS.

1. An organization sponsoring a performing arts program, in notifying the public of the program, could, through publicity material, and through contact with organizations of the deaf, make it known that an interpreter is available upon request and that special seating be reserved (near the interpreter in the front) at a performance. This organization need not make every performance available to the deaf through an interpreter but can offer services for a designated performance, (if more than one performance is being given to the public).
2. An organization sponsoring a performing arts program, in notifying the public of the program through publicity material and contact with organizations of the deaf, could make it known that scripts, programs, and brochures are available in advance upon request for pre-reading.
3. An organization sponsoring an art exhibit including docent tours and/or lectures should make available written material so that a person with a hearing impairment can participate in going through the exhibit. An alternative to this is to offer a designated tour (or tours) with an interpreter.

B. DEFINITION: PERSON WITH A VISUAL IMPAIRMENT: This is a person who is blind or has a serious loss of sight.

EXAMPLES OF ACCOMMODATIONS MADE FOR PERSONS WITH VISUAL IMPAIRMENTS.

1. An organization sponsoring a performing arts program designates and notifies the public through publicity material and contact with organization of the blind, that front row seating will be made available to the visually impaired who request such seating in advance at regular ticket prices.
2. An organization sponsoring any type of project could make available programs, brochures, and other written material that accompanies the project, in braille or cassette recording upon request (or as a regular practice).
3. An organization sponsoring an exhibit or event could plan the physical arrangements (rooms and/or objects in rooms), so as not to present unnecessary hazard to visually impaired persons. (This can include larger direction signs or signs in brighter colors.)

C. DEFINITION: PERSON WITH A MENTAL IMPAIRMENT: This is a person who has a mental, neurological, or emotional impairment.

EXAMPLES OF ACCOMMODATIONS MADE FOR PERSONS WITH MENTAL IMPAIRMENTS.

1. An organization sponsoring an art exhibit that includes docent tours and/or lectures may wish to arrange a tour of the exhibit with appropriate explanations and comment for the mentally impaired. This tour could be facilitated through local contact with advocacy organizations for the mentally impaired.
2. An organization sponsoring a participatory project such as a workshop may wish to make it known through publicity material or contact with advocacy organizations for the mentally impaired that suitable arrangements could be made to extend an opportunity to participate to persons with mental impairments upon request.
3. An organization sponsoring an exhibit or event accompanied by written material, such as brochures or programs, may wish to make available suitably annotated versions of the written material for persons with mental impairments.

D. DEFINITION: PERSON WITH A PHYSICAL IMPAIRMENT: This is a person who is mobility impaired permanently or temporarily. This includes persons who use wheelchairs, crutches or other ambulatory aids.

EXAMPLES OF ACCOMMODATIONS MADE FOR PERSONS WITH PHYSICAL IMPAIRMENTS.

1. An organization sponsoring a performing arts program with Kansas Arts Commission assistance, in a certain community, with the choice of using the "inaccessible" town hall or the "accessible" school auditorium for the program should choose the "accessible" auditorium. (Very generally speaking an "accessible" building for an arts program is a building that clearly presents and marks an entrance and method for a physically impaired person to leave his/her vehicle, enter the building and move to where the program is without encountering physical barriers that impede movement. This usually includes a building with ramps, handrails, and handicap parking spaces near an accessible entrance. The organization, after making the choice to use the "accessible" building, should notify the public through publicity material that the program is being presented in an accessible space and that parking space is available for persons with physical impairments as well as seating space reserved for persons in wheelchairs.)
2. An organization sponsoring an art exhibit in an inaccessible building arranges and notifies the public through publicity material and contact with local handicap advocacy organizations, that the exhibit or an alternate program will be offered in an accessible space at least once during the time the exhibit is available. (An alternate program could consist of all of the exhibit, part of the exhibit, slides of the exhibit, a lecture/demonstration of the exhibit or another program that the sponsoring exhibit with consultation of handicapped persons feels would be a viable alternate program to the exhibit.)
3. An organization sponsoring an art exhibit may simply wish to install temporary ramps and handrails or other aids to accommodate the physically impaired for the duration of the art exhibit is to be placed in an "inaccessible" building.

FROM THE DIVISIONS

COMMUNITY THEATRE (KCTC) - MARSHA STEWART

MERNA PRITCHARD - a tough act to follow.....

For those of you who know Merna, you will be please to know that she is doing quite well. She has gone back to work part-time and is planning to get back on an active basis in the workings of the theatre as soon as possible.

Merna was a fantastic KCTC president and I am going to have to really hustle to keep up with her pace.

I have been active in community theatre for 19 years, both on and off of the stage. I have a B.A. in theatre/speech and also in art. In June, I will graduate from the Asbury Hospital School of Nursing in Salina.

I hope to be able to visit most of the community theatres in Kansas during the next two years and, as a result, have an up-to-date directory of those theatres available.

I want to take this opportunity to remind you and your theatre to support AKT with new memberships - brochures can be obtained from Twink (1334 Lakeside Dr., Topeka 66604) - and to encourage your theatre to find ways to support AKT with a financial contribution. All of the theatres in Kansas will be exploring ways to add their support, and it would be great to see the community theatres lead the way, since we have the largest potential constituency.

I hope to hear from all of you. Remember to add my name and address to your mailing list so that I will know what your theatre is doing (679 S. 10th, Salina, 67401).

SECONDARY SCHOOL THEATRE - NADINE CHARLSEN

I am proud of the representation given by the Secondary School Division to the AKT Conference this year. Our post-conference report shows the largest representation came from students, including the Thespians.

The productions by the state high schools were well received by the few who saw them. I hope that in the future the Conference can support the efforts of the high schools with larger audiences. The productions were viewed by a representative of the International Thespian Society, Don Corathers. As a result of these productions, several of the participating high schools have been invited to participate in the Biennial International Thespian Conference in Muncie, Indiana, this summer. This is the first time in several years that Kansas will have a julti-troupe representation at that conference.

The strength of the secondary schools showed a definite impact on the Conference this year. However, the number of schools and students that are participating is still just a fraction of the number of schools that exist in the state which could be participating. The secondary schools have set some goals to increase our attendance and support of AKT.

1. To encourage all high schools and junior high schools to subscribe to AKT with both organizational and individual memberships.
2. To donate 5¢ of every ticket sold to AKT.
3. To seek support of large businesses and corporations who will give yearly contributions to AKT.
4. For each school that attended the AKT Conference this year to get 5 schools in their area to join AKT and attend the Conference.
5. To research grant possibilities for AKT.
6. To continue to support the International Thespian Society.
7. To get school administrations interested in AKT (AKT has many benefits for secondary school teachers and students:)

- a. Workshops especially for the beginning and advanced teacher
- b. Workshops with demonstrations and participation for students
- c. The opportunity for teachers and students to present or participate in workshops
- d. A time for exchange of ideas
- e. A time to present experimental material, full-length productions, and to see other high school, college, children's theatre, and professional productions.
- f. The opportunity to participate in auditions
- g. The opportunity to meet persons representing the colleges and universities.

The secondary school division also elected a new chairperson who will assume a two-year term beginning in March, 1981. Lois Griffing from Wichita Northwest High School will be working with me this year to learn the duties of the position.

UNIVERSITY/COLLEGE DIVISION -- PIET KNETSCH

In the election for the AKT President-Elect post, the chairman of the University/College Division was elected to fill the position. This leaves us without a chairperson for our Division, as we did not have a chairperson-elect. At this time, I am filling both positions, and we are in the process of setting up an election in the very near future. The election will be accomplished by mail ballot to all current U/C Division members.

It has been observed that our Division has not made very much use of the services of AKT Executive Director, Twink Lynch. One area in which Twink could be of real service relates to the continuing need in academic circles to justify our existence and prove our worth. As many institutions, especially private ones, face declining enrollments and increased costs, administrators will begin to look for ways to reduce staff and reduce expenditures. It behooves us to be aware of this, as to many people cutting such "frivolity" as theatre would seem very logical indeed. Twink Lynch has her "act (AKT) together" when it comes to speaking about the necessity of theatre as part of our life. Therefore, you might give some thought to calling upon her to assist you in preparing yourself for possible onslaughts, if that is an appropriate way to put it. That is just one idea for using AKT resources.

The turnout for the College auditions at this year's conference in Wichita was encouraging, as it showed some increase over the past. I believe that these auditions do have a lot to offer, and we need to do much more to publicize them and promote them with our state high schools. An idea I received from Dick Welsbacher was that we collect information from all the universities and colleges which have scholarships and assistantships to offer for theatre students, and to compile this into a comprehensive list which could be distributed to high school teachers and counselors as a way of attracting more students to auditions at AKT. This idea sounds very viable to me, and I will get out a letter to all institutions on this in the future. In the meantime, please begin to think about this matter and compile the information for your school.

As a final note, I would like to thank all the people who participated in the many workshops generated from within our Division at the recent Conference. We had many exciting and stimulating sessions, including some new ventures such as Bill Kuhlke's session on scholarly work, as well as a very fine production of Kennedy's Children at WSU. If you have ideas for next year's Conference, please send them to me -- we can always use more input.

This will probably be my last MARQUEE article as chairman of the U/C Division. I have enjoyed serving in this position and I am grateful to those of you who have been supportive of our efforts. I have learned a great deal from serving on the AKT Board, and I ask for your continued assistance and support as I start my duties as President-Elect. Thank you.

PROFESSIONAL DIVISION - JEFFREY CORRICK

For theatre enthusiasts:

. . . good theatre is much more than entertainment. In its periods of greatness its playwrights, actors, directors, and designers have sought for the meaning of existence with the same passion and sincerity that have characterized the work of great scientists, philosophers, and theologians; for in its essence the art of theatre rests on a common foundation with all learning; on man's capacity to explore, wonder, and reflect.

--Frank M. Whiting,
former Theatre Dept. Head
University of Minnesota
